The drug dispensing tool should have the following additional requirements:

- User authentication which enables one to identify whether they are a doctor or patient

-The system should maintain an inventory of drugs available at each pharmacy including the quantity and expiration date of each drug

-The system should be able to generate invoices and keep track of the payment history of each patient

-The system should have feature for pharmacies to place orders for drugs with pharmaceutical companies